Rail transport market in Poland in 2013-2017

Principal reasons for the strong growth in rail transport in Poland in 2017:

- Intensification of infrastructural investments, and consequently greater demand for transport of aggregates and construction materials
- Higher market demand for hard coal
- Growth in the visible demand for liquid fuels as a result of curtailing the illicit economy
- Best market conditions since 2011 in the industrial processing sector contributing to the transport of metals, ores and chemicals
